How Full is Your Bucket?

• “Fill your bucket” with one item that has importance in your life and about which you are willing to share the story of its significance with the group. Have this item with you to share in our meeting. (Note, it does not have to literally fit in a bucket, but bonus points if you have a bucket with you during the meeting!)

• Complete the Bucket Filling Interview on page 2 of this agenda. Send all of your responses to Alicia. And, be prepared to share your thoughts on at least 2 questions in a small group.

• Using the bucket handout, list things that fill your bucket. Be prepared to share at least one of these with the whole group.

• Before the SALT Meeting on March 24, talk with your team members about what fills their bucket and list those ideas on the worksheet. We will share some ideas with the whole SALT team.

• Before the end of the semester, try to do something for at least one other member of SALT that fills their bucket.

The Bucket Filling Interview

1. What are your “hot buttons” – hobbies or interests you like to talk about a lot?

2. What increases your positive emotions or “fills your bucket” the most?

3. From whom do you most like to receive recognition or praise.

4. What type of recognition do you like best? Do you like public, private, written, verbal or other types of recognition.

5. What form of recognition motivates you the most. Do you like certificates, a title for winning a competition, a meaningful note or email, or something else?

6. What is the greatest recognition you have ever received?
